

2025 Collective Impact

Anchoring Our Future

Generate Health STL continued strengthening coordinated care, community voice, partner capacity, and resource support to advance Black maternal, infant, and family well-being across the St. Louis region.

Coordinated Quality Care

987 people served through coordinated care partners

712 CRIS referrals facilitated to connect families to support

109 organizational partners supported through coordinated care efforts

20 capacity-focused technical assistance sessions provided to CRIS partners

178 coordinated care network trainings delivered

Community Engagement & Network Building

190 residents from high-impact zip codes engaged through outreach

56 attendees welcomed to GH 101

15 social determinants of health tours completed

16 community-informed trainings delivered

Building trust, deepening understanding, and creating entry points for shared action.

Advocacy, Storytelling & Racial Equity

2 statewide maternal health summits supported

4 statewide MOM(nibus) Steering Committee co-hosted sessions

23 CRIS partners engaged in maternal health efforts

2BH 2B Heard elevated lived experience as insight, learning, and accountability

We give data a face.

Resource Distribution & Family Support

412 cribs distributed to support safe sleep

2,292 period supply kits distributed

5,082 diapers distributed to families and partners

Meeting urgent family needs while advancing long-term systems transformation.

Anchored in Community. Moving Toward Zero Disparities.

The numbers tell one story. The relationships, stories, and shared action behind the numbers tell another.

2025 Collective Impact

Anchoring Our Future

Anchoring our future means strengthening what we measure, deepening how we partner, and ensuring community voice continues to shape action.

Where We Go From Here

1

Strengthening Community-Centered Evaluation and Learning

Improve how we track partner engagement, care coordination outcomes, community education, training impact, and shifts in awareness, trust, and action.

2

Deepening Coordinated Care and Partner Capacity

Continue investing in relationships, tools, technical assistance, and shared practices that help partners serve families more effectively.

3

Translating Community Voice into Institutional and Policy Change

Build structures that help lived experience influence provider education, institutional practices, funding priorities, and policy conversations.

Data, Evaluation & Learning

DATA is not only about reporting numbers. It is about understanding what is changing, why it matters, and where systems need to respond differently.

- Center community voice and lived experience
- Measure awareness, trust, and action
- Use learning to guide community-centered decisions

A Trusted Bridge

This is the work of moving community insight into shared accountability and systems change.

Anchored in Community. Moving Toward Zero Disparities.

Generate Health STL is not only responding to urgent needs. We are helping build the conditions for a stronger, more responsive ecosystem of care — one where community truth leads, partners move together, and systems are held accountable for change.